Overheard on the street car the other day. Three young misses were discussing various matters of more or less importance when one who apparently expected to go away to boarding school suddenly asked her companions "Which would you do if you were I, take a bath robe or a collarless back to school with you?" The other girls gave it up.

The Florists' and Gardeners' association will meet tonight in the Town hall to make the final arrangements for their annual flower exhibit. It is expected that this year's will surpass anything yet attempted, and Andover people who do not attend and help to make it a success financially as well as meritorious in point of beauty, originality and handiwork of exhibits, will miss an especially good thing. It is said that the chrysanthemums will make a grand show this year.

Appropriate to the fall season was the Harvest social held by the Young Peoples' society of Christian Endeavor at the Baptist church last Friday evening. Handsome decorations of autumn foliage and flowers gave a warm touch to the vestry. The attendance was large, all seemingly enjoying the attractive program and amusements arranged by the committee. Each reading was appropriate to the season. Miss Ada Piddington read "The Huskers" by Whittier. Miss Alice M. Stone sang "Out of the Deep." "To the Fringed Gentian" was read by Miss Lillian Dodge, and H. H. Hill read a selection from the Uncle Remus Tales, "Brer Fox's Sour Grapes." Refreshments were served during the evening and games in which all could take part brought this delightful social to a close.

Tonight at the West church will be held the quarterly meeting of the Andover Christian Endeavor Union, commencing at 7.45 o'clock. A full attendance is desired as the speaker of the evening, Rev. James L. Hill, D. D. of Salem, Mass., is expected to be exceptionally interesting. He will give a report of the recent convention at London, and incidents of his trip both going and coming.

At the meeting of the Andover Cricket club last Tuesday evening, David L. Coutts was elected secretary to serve for the balance of the year. The election of the remaining officers was postponed until next spring. It was voted that a portion of the crease be relaid. Nothing will be done in relation to rebuilding the clubhouse until spring, except the procuring of plans and other necessary arrangements. It is expected that a reunion of the old members will be held some time next month, upon invitation of the present members.

Mrs. Francis E. Clark who has just recently returned from a prolonged Christian Endeavor trip with her husband has consented to share some of her experiences with the women of Andover. As she just escaped from China before the outbreak there, she is sure to bring much of interest in her own bright pleasing way from that land of which we all want to know more. She will speak to the Auxiliary of the Woman's Board at the South church, Monday, October 15th. She says, "If any words of mine can bring China any nearer to Andover, and make people want to do more for the work in that country, then I shall be glad to speak those words." A general invitation is extended.

WEST PARISH.

W. R. Page of Malden, expects soon to give a reading in the Grange hall under the auspices of the Church Aid society of the West church.

The quarterly meeting of the C. E. Union will be held at the West church tonight at 7.45 o'clock. Dr. James L. Hill of Salem, Mass., will give a report of the recent C. E. convention at London, and will relate incidents of the voyage out and back.

FRYE VILLAGE.

Complaints have been made to the L. L. & H. officials in relation to the stopping place of the cars at the Village centre. Where they stop now in front of Mrs. Morgan's store, the ground is so very low on one side that difficulty is experienced by passengers in getting in and out of the car. A request has been made to have the electric stop as formerly in front of the hall.

Paul Hannigan resumed work last Monday on his Turkish baths.

William M. Wood is having a pretty rustic bridge built over the gate at the outlet of Poor's pond.

Death.

In Andover, Oct. 4, Julia A. Taylor, aged one year, 4 months, and 4 days, from diphtheria. Burial took place today in Spring Grove cemetery. Services at the grave were conducted by Rev. Mr. Palmer.

Ran over a Newfoundland Dog.

Two Lowell cyclists who were riding to Andover last night, were some friends at Phillips academy, ran into a large Newfoundland dog which was lying in the shadow of some trees on the West Parish road, beyond Hagar's pond. The forward bicyclist Carl Munn, son of a well known grocer in Lowell, was thrown heavily, and striking on the point of his shoulder, fractured his collar bone. His companion was not injured seriously, escaping with a sprained thumb.

Fortunately, the wheels were not broken so that the young men were able to ride to Andover, Munn riding all the distance up hill and down with one hand. Dr. Torrey was visited and he attended to Munn's shoulder. They returned to Lowell by train.

More Names Added To Voting List.

At a meeting of the board of registrars at the Town clerk's office last evening, thirteen more names were added to the voting list.

The names of the new voters are as follows: Harry Bourdelais, Michael F. D'Arcy, Thomas F. D'Arcy, Edward Dawson, George B. Elliot, William H. Gibson, Arthur R. Jackson, Joshua Milner, Robert A. Mitchell, Walter S. Rhodes, Eric A. Starbuck, Jeremiah A. Towle, Xury T. Wood.

The next meetings of the board will be held at Ballardvale on Wednesday, Oct. 10th, from 7.30 to 9.30 p. m., and at Andover in the Town clerk's office, Monday, Oct. 15th, from 7.30 to 9.30 o'clock.

Smith; auditor, Mrs. Abby Woodlin. A supper was held in the evening. Thirty-six persons joined and a prosperous season is assured.

Ballardvale lodge No. 105 tendered Rev. Thomas Livingston a farewell reception in Good Templars' hall last Monday evening. While it was an informal affair it showed conclusively the marked esteem and respect that is held by the lodge members for Rev. Mr. Livingston, all of which he merited by his enthusiastic support and work for the lodge of which for two terms he was its able chief Templar. Rev. Mr. Livingston has joined the New York state conference and has been assigned to the church at Barton, N. Y., where there is a large flourishing parish. The prayers and best wishes of all his many Ballardvale friends accompany him to his new field of labor.

On the 10th day of December, 1897, Rev. S. A. Donahoe, pastor of the M. E. Church, South, Ft. Pleasant, W. Va., contracted a severe cold which was attended from the beginning by violent coughing. I most cheerfully recommend it to the public." For sale by Arthur Bliss, Andover. C. H. Shattuck, Ballardvale.

KNOX RENOMINATED

Harmonious Gathering at Woburn Tuesday. Stirring Speech by the Congressman.

Sargent Again Placed for Senator

WOBURN, Oct. 2.—At the Fifth District Republican Congressional convention held in Lyceum hall this forenoon Congressman William S. Knox of Lawrence was unanimously named as the party's candidate for representative in Congress.

No convention was ever more harmonious and great enthusiasm was displayed throughout.

Upon the invitation of the Republicans of Woburn the delegates were tendered a banquet in the hall above the convention hall. The delegates expressed great pleasure over the hospitality shown them. Lyceum hall proved to be most admirably suited for a convention.

Congressman Knox's speech of acceptance was a masterly effort and was received with great applause.

Lieut. Col. Butler Ames and Judge John A. Pickman of Lowell took a prominent part in the proceedings of the convention, proving conclusively that they are both sincere in their desire to aid their successful rival for the nomination.

The convention was called to order at 11 o'clock by Hon. Byron Truell of Lawrence, chairman of the district committee. Lieutenant Colonel Butler Ames of Lowell was named for temporary chairman by E. G. Preston of Woburn, and was elected. Lieut. Col. Ames in a graceful speech thanked the delegates for the honor conferred upon him and pledged his party support to the nominee of the convention. Frank L. Remick of Methuen was named for temporary secretary by ex-City Marshal David Bailey of Lawrence.

On motion of William Housell of Lowell a committee on credentials was then chosen. The committee consisted of the following: William Housell of Lowell, Abbott Poor of Lawrence, John R. Carter of Woburn, A. E. Roberts of Reading, and M. T. Wadlin of North Andover. After the report of the committee it was voted to make the temporary organization permanent.

Nominations for a congressional were then called for and Hon. J. A. Pickman, in a strong speech in which he endorsed the action of the present congressman placed the name of William S. Knox before the convention, moving that he be nominated by acclamation. The motion was passed unanimously, amid great enthusiasm.

On motion of Hon. Byron Truell of Lawrence, William Begg of Woburn was named for and elected a presidential elector.

The district committee, then chosen, comprises the following: John C. Wilson of Lowell, Frank L. Weaver of Lowell, Hon. Byron Truell of Lawrence, E. H. Humphrey of Lawrence, John N. Portal of Woburn, E. G. Preston of Woburn, George L. Frederick of Methuen, John N. Cole of Andover, Enoch Foster of Tewksbury, Thomas H. Cornell of Dracut, Lewis M. Bancroft of Reading, Hon. Newton P. Frye of North Andover, Oscar Stowell of Lynnfield, B. G. Hall of Peabody, Chester N. Clark of Wilmington and E. A. Carpenter of North Reading.

At this point Hon. John N. Harlow and Hon. Byron Truell were appointed a committee to escort Mr. Knox before the convention. When the congressman appeared he was greeted with vociferous and prolonged applause.

Congressman Knox made a splendid speech, which was in part as follows: "Our opponents present a new issue which they call anti-imperialism. Of course, as it is presented by the Democratic party it must be anti-something. As what they call imperialism is the characteristic of the most glorious epoch of our history and is a movement for the advancement of civilization, the extension of liberty and the blessing of good government to millions lately oppressed and down-trodden, as it has clothed the nation with honor and prestige and opened to its people boundless possibilities of trade and commerce, all the surer is it of Democratic opposition. We are ready to meet the issue, and it would be fortunate if the Republican party could go to the people upon it alone. But we cannot forget the past nor ignore other issues that take close hold of our welfare, and which are pregnant with good or ill to our present as a manufacturing community. No new cry can dull the memory of the four years of Cleveland's administration. No discussion of theories of government can make us forget the closed workshop, the silent mill, the low wages, the scant supply of the comforts and necessities of life. The wreck and ruin wrought by the Wilson Bill are a gaunt spectre that will down at no man's bidding. We know our disaster and suffering as a people for five long years were caused by the Democratic policy of free trade and a debased currency. We know our present prosperity and happiness rest upon the Republican policy of protection and sound money. We have determined to overthrow the one and uphold the other."

The attack of the Democratic platform upon the policy of protection is direct and certain. It may not occupy so much space in that instrument as the platitudes of anti-imperialism, but it is all there. High sounding verbiage is not concealed in the cloak of the Democratic tiger. The Dingley tariff is declared to be a trust breeding instrument whose benefits are conferred upon the few and its burdens laid upon the many. Who are the many in this country? and who are the few? Are not the many millions of farmers, the workmen in shop and mill and mine, the toilers with hand and brain that make up that vast army whose daily happiness depends upon daily profitable employment? These are they upon whom the benefits of the Dingley Bill are conferred. Who are the few of this country? The men who fattened under the Wilson Bill, the importers of goods that should have been made here, the exporters of gold that should have been kept here or loaned abroad, the bankers and syndicates that bought and sold our bonds at enormous profit at the expense of the people. It is not intended to discuss the policy of protection, but to emphasize the fact that the Democratic platform places this policy by that platform in the soundness of our currency. Without modification and without reserve the demand for free silver coinage at 16 to 1 is made. It is wrong no man's while to discuss this foolish issue in Massachusetts. It is an insult to the intelligence of an audience, but the entire Democratic outfit, Democrats, Populists and free silver republicans, are compelled at the behest of Bryan to march behind this ridiculous banner. Free trade and a debased currency, either of silver or irredeemable paper, are the real Democratic doctrines, and a Democratic victory means their practical adoption. They are no less dangerous because masked by another issue, made too thin to be the basis of a platform from the intelligent voter.

Imperialism, charged as it is to the Republican party, means very much or it means nothing. If it means that the Republican party has entered upon a career of territorial acquisition by force or intrigue and the opening of foreign markets by conquest for the purpose of national aggrandizement, then it is a most serious issue, and the party professing such a purpose should meet with swift political destruction. One will look in vain through all the history of the Republican party, through all its platforms and all the declarations of its statesmen to find any indication of such purpose. If justly liable to such charges, it must be solely through the events of the Spanish war in which the Republican party formed no part of the imperialist charge. The Democratic party was a unit in favor of the war. It differed from the Republican party only in respect that it wanted to make the war its own way, and carry it on in its own manner. It proposed to recognize the independence of the Cuban government as it existed in the spring of 1895. The Republican party proposed to recognize the freedom of the Cuban people from the yoke of Spanish rule, and the withdrawal of Spain from the island and leave the people of Cuba to form a government of their own. Events showed that there was no Cuban government at that time, and the result of a war with Spain under Democratic auspices must have left the United States at the mercy of a few self-styled, and irresponsible rulers in Cuba when terms of peace came to be settled. The Democratic party not only desired to make war with Spain in its own way but to provide for its prosecution in its own peculiar manner. It proposed to raise the necessary means by the coinage of the silver bullion in the treasury and a new issue of greenbacks. The Republican party was determined to pay for a righteous war in righteous money, and to ask the people of the country to furnish it. A Republican administration, upheld by a Republican Congress, carried these high purposes to success. Cuba was made free, and the war was paid in honest money. Was this imperialism? Then came the treaty of Paris. No one questions that by that Treaty we should have retained the Philippines. The only question raised is that we should have retained them with promise to their people, not of freedom, but of independence. This question was decided in the manner the Constitution provides. Two-thirds of the Senate ratified the treaty transferring absolutely the islands to the United States. The government of whatever equity Spain still had. Is this imperialism? If so, then the Republican party, not President McKinley but the United States Senate were the imperialists, for a foreign treaty is supreme law. No charge of imperialism can be made from the manner the Administration has dealt with the people inhabiting the islands. They have been dealt with as a people dwelling in a territory which belonged to the United States. Mercy and justice have tempered every act; freedom and equality to the individual, government and law for the entire body politic have been offered without stint or reservation. America's lives have been sacrificed that these blessings might be enjoyed, and it is sad to know that other lives must be lost and other graves opened under the shadow of the flag till a final Republican triumph in November shall crush all hope of successful rebellion in the Philippines.

Senatorial Convention

The Fifth senatorial convention was called to order at city hall by Fred N. Abbott, member of the State Central committee at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, with a full attendance of delegates. August Stiegler nominated for temporary chairman, Henry B. Lane, of Lawrence, and James H. May, of Andover, and Fred H. Eaton as temporary clerk. These motions were carried and the temporary organization was afterwards made permanent on motion of James H. Barnes. Hon. Byron Truell moved that a committee of six be appointed by the chair to serve as a committee on credentials. Carried.

The chair appointed, Hon. Byron Truell of Lawrence, George A. Higgins of Andover, H. W. Fields of North Andover, I. K. Day of Buxford, Alfred Sawyer of Methuen, and John Poor of Topsham. The committee on credentials reported all the delegates present.

Exra W. Hodgkins moved that the convention proceed to the nomination of a candidate for senator.

Joseph J. Lawrence, nominated the Hon. C. F. Sargent and moved his nomination by acclamation. John George of Methuen seconded the nomination. The motion prevailed with no dissenting voice.

William H. Day of North Andover moved that a committee of three be appointed by the Chair to notify the candidate.

The Chair appointed William Halliday, North Andover, Andrew McTernan of Andover, and Charles Lacaille of Lawrence.

On entering the hall Mr. Sargent was received very cordially, and in accepting the nomination spoke in part as follows: "Chairman and Gentlemen of the 5th Senatorial Convention: I thank you for this renewed expression of confidence, as indicated in my renomination as a Republican candidate for Senator of this district, and I accept the duties which the nomination places upon me. The Republican party comes before the people with the brightest prospects, it is terminating four years of successful administration, the country has enjoyed unprecedented prosperity. Our soldiers and sailors have achieved world renown admiration for their courage and daring. Great international questions have come before the Administration and have been settled with the utmost wisdom. We have led the world in the great work of humanity and the Administration now comes before the people for the endorsement it so richly deserves."

Consumption

is, by no means, the dreadful disease it is thought to be—in the beginning.

It can always be stopped—in the beginning. The trouble is: you don't know you've got it; you don't believe it; you won't believe it—till you are forced to. Then it is dangerous.

Don't be afraid; but attend to it quick—you can do it yourself and at home.

tory to the people, and as their servant coming before them for my one term, I have the fullest confidence in their approval.

"While the office of State Senator is of the greatest importance especially this year when the Congressional districts are to be re-districted, each nominee should work hard in hand for the common good of all and the unqualified success of the entire Republican ticket. Last year being an off year, with great indifference displayed on every side, 1000 Republicans unregistered and more than 4000 voters failing to vote, were there any reason to expect that the Party could elect their Senator, even though the district is 800 Republican? And so I met with defeat at the polls, after a very pleasant first year spent in the services of the people as State Senator."

"But this year all is different; there are great issues to be determined and the nation awaits the result of this election, and the want of interest displayed last year is changed to enthusiasm for the party success, the reverse of the sword come out and the success of your candidate secured. But it cannot be done without individual effort upon the part of each and every member. In unity there is strength. Each nominee should receive the entire vote of the party. Let us discourage cutting, let us work for common cause, using every honorable means to secure the success which is awaiting us, and when we have finished our work, when on the 6th of November, we have re-elected our President, our Congress, our Governor, Senator and Representative, then the country can be assured of four more years of prosperity, happiness and contentment."

"Gentlemen, I thank you for this nomination and take pleasure in accepting the same."

During the winter of 1897, Mr. James Reed, one of the leading citizens and merchants of Clay, Clay Co., W. Va., struck his leg against a cake of ice in such a manner as to bruise it severely. It became very much swollen and pained him so badly that he could not walk without the aid of crutches. He was treated by physicians, also used several kinds of liniments and two and a half gallons of whiskey in bathing it, but nothing gave any relief until he began using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. This brought almost a complete cure in a week's time, and he believes if he had not used this remedy his leg would have had to be amputated. Pain Balm is unequalled for sprains, bruises and rheumatism. For sale by Arthur Bliss, Andover, C. H. Shattuck, Ballardvale.

can you settle on my daughter?"

"But that is mercenary. I do not speak of money with my money. I do not all my life, but I settle no loaf. I then we may consider you out of it and my coachman in. He can settle $1000 on the girl and will continue to drive for me at half wages. 'Scuse me, count, but this is my busy day.'"

"Then my title and my loaf was secured?"

"You've hit it."

"And a coachman—"

BLOOD POISON. Mercury and Potash Make Wrecks, Not Cures. In some cases the external signs of Contagious Blood Poison are so slight that the victim is firmly within the grasp of the monster before the true nature of the disease is known. In other cases the blood is quickly filled with this poisonous virus and the swollen glands, mucus patches in the mouth, sores on scalp, ulcers on tongue, sore throat, eruptions on skin, copper colored spots, and falling hair and eyebrows leave no room for doubt, as these are all unmistakable signs of Contagious Blood Poison. Doctors still prescribe mercury and potash as the only cure for Blood Poison. These poisonous minerals never yet made a complete and permanent cure of Contagious Blood Poison. They drive the disease back into the system, cover it up for a while, but it breaks out again in worse form. These powerful minerals produce mercurial rheumatism and the most offensive sores and ulcers, causing the joints to stiffen and fingers to drop off. Mercury and potash make wrecks, not cures, and those who have been dosed with these drugs are never able to get on their feet again. S. S. S. acts in an entirely different manner, being a purely vegetable remedy; it forces the poison out of the system, and instead of tearing down, builds up and invigorates the general health. S. S. S. is the only antidote for this specific virus, and therefore the only cure for Contagious Blood Poison. No matter in what stage or how hopeless the case may appear, even though pronounced incurable by the doctors, S. S. S. can be relied upon to make a rapid, permanent cure. S. S. S. is not a new, untried remedy; an experience of nearly fifty years has proven it a sure and unfailing cure for this disease. It is the only purely vegetable blood medicine known.

Mr. H. L. Myers, 10 Mulberry St., Newark, N. J., says: "I was afflicted with a terrible blood disease, which was in spots at first, but afterwards spread all over my body. These spots broke out into sores, and it is easy to imagine the suffering I endured. Before I became convinced that doctors could do me no good I had spent a hundred dollars, which was really thrown away. I then tried various patent medicines, but they did not touch the disease. When I had almost given up, I bought a bottle of S. S. S. I was greatly improved, and was delighted with the result. The large, red spots on my chest began to grow paler and smaller, and before long disappeared entirely. I regained my lost weight, became stronger, and my appetite improved. I was soon entirely well, and my skin as clear as a piece of glass."

Struck by Reading Car.

A Lawrence pedlar's team was struck by a Reading car at 10.45 last Friday night at the top of Andover hill. Mr. Golden, of Common street, was the owner of the wagon but the driver was unable or unwilling to give his name when questioned. He had been to the Middlesex East fair with peanuts, lemons, and other articles and on his way home evidently imbibed too much fire water, as he drove his horse from the road onto the tracks of the L. & R. through the green over the brow of the hill on Main street.

The Reading car had just left the end of the route with Motorman Johnson at the controller, and before he could stop the heavy car, it struck the horse throwing it from the track, and overthrowing the wagon completely. The driver struck on his head and was rendered insensible. Dr. Abbott was summoned, also an official of the railroad company, from Reading. As nothing serious seemed to be the matter with the man after he recovered his senses he was taken to the police station where he was allowed to revive and was released Saturday morning.

Outside of broken shafts and forward gear of the wagon, bruises and cuts on the horse, no serious damage was done. No blame can be attached to the motorman or road for the accident.

From Andover to New York by Trolley.

To those who like riding on the electric this is one of the most enjoyable trips imaginable. Starting Monday morning from Boston our party of three took the Watertown car at Park street station and went by trolley as far as West Warren, stopping at Worcester an hour for dinner.

At West Warren is the first break in the line. There we took steam cars for Springfield, arriving at about six o'clock in the evening, making our first day one hundred miles. Tuesday morning we took the car from Springfield to Longmeadow. This car runs up a steep incline, giving a fine view of the Connecticut river on our right. The weather was fine, the air clear and bracing, the houses of the people on either side, with their well kept lawns and beautiful gardens, made a picture long to be remembered.

At Longmeadow we had half an hour to wait for our next car. At this place is the stone that marks the boundary line between Massachusetts and Connecticut. The time passed very pleasantly here, as we had a chance to take a short walk, and that is one of the reasons why the trip is not tiresome. The change from one car to another, sometimes having to walk a short distance to get the car, rests one very much. Continuing our journey we went through the town of Thompsonville, and here we got our first view of Mt. Tom. The day was so bright and clear that we had a fine view of this grand old mountain and the surrounding hills.

As we went through Connecticut it was quite a curiosity to see the tobacco growing in the fields. Warehouse Point, where we were to take the steam cars again, has extensive warehouses, from which it gets its name. After a ride of fifteen minutes by steam, we took the electric for Hartford. Having decided to get to New York by Wednesday noon, we could not stop at this interesting place, much to our regret. Continuing the journey to New York, the New Britain car is taken at City hall. This car leaves the highway and runs for several miles through private property. For some distance a speed of twenty miles an hour is maintained. Sitting on the front seat of this car the swift motion and the ever-changing scenery was most enjoyable.

We intended to go as far as Bridgeport, but before reaching the city we took the steam cars again at Wallingford for New Haven. This is a fine place in which to spend a few hours, and we did stop there on our way back and were well repaid. It is a beautiful city and there is much to see of interest to the traveller. Journeying swiftly on past many places of which I have not time to speak, we arrived at Bridgeport about six o'clock. We were just 202 miles from Boston and not at all weary.

The next morning at nine o'clock we took the electric for Stamford and there we took the steam cars for New Rochelle, arriving at 12th street, New York City, at three o'clock p.m., having expended for our fares exactly $3.76 for each person.

After spending three days in New York, visiting as many places of interest as we could in so short a time, we returned by the same way with the exception of a longer trip by trolley, having learned that a line had been completed a fortnight before we started on our trip. This made a difference of twenty cents in our favor in the fare.

Returning, our longest trip was from Springfield to Lawrence. Starting from there at eight in the morning, stopping for two hours at Indian Orchard, we arrived at Lawrence at half past ten at night.

After travelling over all the roads from Andover to New York, we found the cars between Andover and Reading made the best time and ran the smoothest. As a rule we found the cars very comfortable, many of them like the cars of the Lowell road, the service was good, and the conductors very kind, pointing out various places of interest that were not down in the guide book. The cars were never crowded, as the summer resorts were closed along the route. The weather was fine all through the trip; the fresh air was like a tonic and we returned refreshed in body and spirit.

Travelling by trolley there is so much more to see than by steam cars, for unlike the latter, they go through the business and residential part of the country. The air is pure, and there is no smoke or cinders to bother one. To those who wish to take an autumn vacation of a few days, I can recommend a trolley trip as most interesting and pleasurable.

Howe's Leg Broken.

Thorndike D. Howe, son of Dr. and Mrs. O. T. Howe of Lawrence, who has been trying for the Harvard 'Varsity football team, broke his right leg just above the ankle, Tuesday, while practising on the eleven.

This is young Howe's first year at Harvard and he had been making a plucky try for tackle on the football team. He played on the Phillips Andover academy eleven last year as substitute guard.

Dr. and Mrs. Howe went to Cambridge to care for their son. The accident is a particularly hard blow for the young man who gave much promise as a football player, and whose chances of making the team were good.

The dance of the local lodge of Pilgrim Fathers will be held this evening in Pilgrim hall instead of on the 12th as was erroneously reported in the Townsman last week.

Arrangements are being made for a dual meeting between teams from Andover and Exeter academies and teams from Eton and Rugby colleges. This meeting will probably be held next year.

Frank A. Murphy, of Taunton, brother of Charles Murphy the well known barber of this place, has begun his final year of studies at a medical school in Boston. Last Friday night he had a pleasant surprise when he was summoned to the store of Ripley & Briggs, where he has been employed as a prescription clerk even while pursuing his studies in Boston. Arriving at the store he found a number of his friends gathered and took it as a joke, but the funny part of it disappeared when he was presented with a purse containing a large sum of money to be used in assisting him to complete his studies.

Electric Railway Wheels.

The selectmen have made a move in the electric railway muddle, and the entering wedge is set for two tracks down Main street, one to accommodate the L. & R. road, the other for the L. & H. road. We say "the entering wedge" because the franchise does not yet state what particular location may be decided upon in placing the tracks. We sincerely regret that there is not force enough, somewhere and somehow, to bring the two companies together in using a common track down Main street. Such an arrangement is the logical solution of the difficulty. It would bring upon the street but little appreciable extra traffic, and cause no such extra obstruction as an additional track will cause, to have the two roads use one track. On the other hand there must be taken into account the question of the greatest good to the greatest number. It is admitted that the top of Andover hill is not the proper place for a street railway terminus; it is unfair to the public, to the people who reside there, to the business interests of the town already established in the centre.

The selectmen are the sole judges of the problem and their decision settles it, but they should beware lest in the settling of the problem they unwittingly find themselves party to a combination through which the public will be in the end receive but little good. There is undoubtedly a great deal of truth in the widely circulated reports that somebody may be generously benefitted by keeping the L. & R. road out of Andover centre. It is very easy to see that the stock of the L. & R. road is a much better proposition if the connection is secure with the projected line to Haverhill, than it is with its present terminus on the hill. It is easy also to see that certain parties who might be interested in consolidating the L. & R. road with the L. L. & H. would be interested in keeping the road in as much disfavor as possible until they were able to secure such control. We have said enough to show that the wheels within wheels are multiplying very rapidly in connection with this little piece of track on Main street, Andover.

The general public has not a particle of interest in these schemes so far as they are engineered for speculation purposes. The citizens of Andover demand that their selectmen shall not be influenced by any considerations other than the public good. If they shall decide that the exigencies of the case demand two tracks on Main street they should so act, but the grant or refusal should not be made as an aid to any person's scheming.

If they shall place two tracks there, they have still further power to so build the road and provide for its maintenance at the expense of the railroad companies, as to make Main street a much more satisfactory highway than it is now, and they will be expected to exercise that power to the very limit.

Editorial Cinders.

The projected band concert in aid of the Texas sufferers deserves heartiest support. The whole world has had its thoughts directed to Galveston, but now the interior counties are being found to need even more than the rich seaport. Gov. Sayers has recently said "I think that the territory covered by Harris county, Brazoria, Fort Bend and Waller counties, is the territory which stands more in need of assistance than any part of the country raved by the storm." Let Andover do her part generously.

It is a pity that the few bright youths who amuse themselves pulling fake fire alarms, cannot be given the rattle and a whistle which their real age seems to merit for them. And if it is not a prank to be attributed to extreme youth, then a good horse-whipping such as older nonsense sometimes gets might fit the case.

The political atmosphere is cleared for action and the lines are just the same as in previous years. For Congress, Knox vs Flynn; for the state senate Sargent vs Currier. The same old arguments seem likely to be in use in both contests.

The address of Dr. Storrs read at the funeral of Prof. Park, and other memorials of the time, have been gathered into a neat volume, and are on sale at the Bookstore.

ACTION AT LAST

Selectmen Grant Location on Main Street to Lawrence & Reading Road.

At last the Lawrence & Reading road have obtained what they asked for, a location on South Main street from the hill to the Square, and they will now be in position to treat with the Lowell, Lawrence & Haverhill road with a view to obtaining the use of the latter's rails. The selectmen granted the location last Saturday night, after a conference with the L. & R. officials. Notwithstanding the fact that the location has been granted, the rails cannot be laid until the exact position which the rails are to occupy, providing the two roads are not able to come to terms, shall have been determined by the board of selectmen.

"Ordered on a petition of the Lawrence & Reading Street Railway company, dated August 30, 1900, it appearing that due notice has been given to all parties interested by publication in the Andover Townsman August 31, 1900, being 14 days before a hearing thereon, held Sept. 15, 1900, it is hereby adjudged that public necessity and convenience require that said location be granted and that a location be and hereby is granted for a single track, connecting at the present terminus of said Lawrence & Reading Street Railway company on Main street and extending through said Main street to its junction with Elm street, together with the right to set poles and run wires for the purpose of operating its railway with electricity.

"This location shall be subject to all the conditions, restrictions and regulations contained in the original grant to the said company and to such further conditions, restrictions and regulations not inconsistent with law as the selectmen may hereafter require. No track shall be laid until the specific locality in said Main street shall be designated by the selectmen.

"All expenses and costs of every nature growing out in any manner of the granting of this location shall be borne by the Lawrence & Reading Street Railway company, and an acceptance of this location by the directors of said company shall forever bind said company to this condition."

It is rather a difficult thing to decide what the outcome will be and whether the selectmen will finally allow the Lawrence & Reading road to lay rails side by side with the L. L. & H. tracks, with flat rails, macadamized between, or with the two outside rails six inches or so apart, called interlining.

False Alarm Wednesday Night.

The Phillips academy students have apparently begun their childish ringing of the fire alarm again after a summer of quietness. Last Wednesday evening the entire fire department was called to Box 42 on Phillips street opposite, E. P. Chapin's about ten o'clock by a false alarm. It is a hard run up there for the horses besides being a great source of annoyance to the men.

Not only that, but the men are getting so disgusted with the whole business that they do not exert themselves to make fast time and some day a building on the hill will be destroyed which might have been saved by a little quicker response to the alarm.

Chief Hardy has taken prompt action by announcing that until further notice Boxes 35, 37, 41, 42, 44, 45, and 46 will not be responded to until the second alarm. The person ringing the alarm must stay at the box until the "all out" is sounded by the chief, either from the box or engine house. It can be readily seen that should a fire get well under way in a building near one of the prescribed boxes, it would be next to impossible to extinguish it when the response is made after a second alarm.

The second alarm boxes are located as follows:

35. Porter street, near Prof Forbes'.

37. Salem street, opp. G. C. Foster's.

41. Central street, junction Phillips.

44. School street, junction Locke.

45. Mansion house (private).

46. Main street, cor. Morton.

Annual Meeting of Andover Home for Aged People.

The annual meeting of the Andover Home for Aged People was held at the home of the secretary, Miss E. M. E. Sanborn, 4 Morton street, on Tuesday, Oct. 2d, when the following officers and directors were elected for the coming year: George H. Torr, president; Mrs. Lizzie A. Wilson, vice-president; Geo. A. Parker, treasurer; Joseph A. Smart, auditor; Miss E. M. E. Sanborn, secretary. Directors: Dr. C. F. Bancroft, Mrs. Abby J. Smith, Miss Mary A. Ballard, J. W. Barnard, Miss Susanna E. Jackson, Miss Emily Carter and Mrs. Mary Gleason.

The following report was presented: "The board of directors of the Andover Home for Aged People, during the past year, has sustained the loss of two of its most eminent members, Prof. E. A. Park and Prof. J. W. Churchill. These names, standing for sympathy with every effort for civic welfare and Christian benevolence, we drop with regret from our annual records, but rejoice to believe they are eternally inscribed in the great Book."

Wedding.

RILEY-WARD.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Ward and George F. Riley, took place last week, Thursday afternoon, at 9 o'clock, in St. Luke's church, Westboro. Rev. Father McGann performed the ceremony. The bride was very beautifully gowned in white silk. She wore a veil, and carried a pearl covered prayer book. Miss Lizzie Ward, a sister of the bride acted as bridesmaid. She was very prettily attired in white land-downs. Martin McKeon acted as best man. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ward, from 9 to 12 o'clock. About 75 persons were present. Quite a number of friends and relatives from Ballardvale and Andover were present. The presents were numerous and costly. After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Riley will reside at 27 Summer street, Westboro.

Obituary.

JAMES P. BUTTERFIELD.

On Sept. 30th, James P. Butterfield, one of Andover's best known citizens passed away. He was born in Tyngsboro, Mass., Oct. 1828, and was the eldest son of James Butterfield, a noted millwright. James P. showed an early age that he had inherited the mechanical genius of his father, and when a mere boy built a mill on the stream on the old homestead, where he sawed bark for the amusement of his companions and to the delight of his parents. He received his education at Winslow Academy, Tyngsboro. He excelled in mathematics and draughting. By the sudden death of his father the whole responsibility of his business was thrown upon young James, when he was twenty years old. He constructed mills in Houston, Texas, in Lowell, Lawrence, Canton, Andover, and North Andover.

In 1863 he married Elizabeth Brooks, youngest daughter of William Jenkins, a sterling citizen of Andover, who is well remembered by many of our older citizens as a vigorous debater in town meetings in the days when everything before the meeting was subjected to discussion.

When a public water supply was determined upon Mr. Butterfield was quickly recognized as the right man for the water board and was made one of the commissioners. He continued on the board and on its successor, the Board of Public Works, till his decease.

He also served the town as a selectman for a brief term. He was for many years a trustee of the Andover Savings Bank and a director in the Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance Company. In short when good judgment and wise counsel in practical matters were needed Mr. Butterfield was in request. Of kindly, amiable disposition and manner he was much esteemed by all who knew him. He is survived by his widow and three children, Belle J., Polly F., and William J. Butterfield.

The funeral was held from the late home of the deceased on School street, Wednesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. Rev. Frederic Palmer, of Christ church, officiated, assisted by Prof. John Phelps Taylor, a neighbor.

Among those who were present at the funeral were Moses T. Stevens of North Andover, L. R. J. Varum and ex-Mayor James Abbott of Lowell, Joseph A. Smart, Lewis T. Hardy, George A. Parker of Andover, and Jones Frankie of Haverhill, officers and directors of the Merrimack Mutual Insurance company, with whom Mr. Butterfield was associated as director. Representing the Board of Public Works were the surviving members, John H. Flint, Felix G. Haynes, John L. Smith and the superintendent, John E. Smith. A number of these gentlemen were also associate members of the deceased as trustees of the Andover Savings bank and Spring Grove cemetery.

The bearers were George W. Foster, Frank E. Gleason, George T. Abbott and Omar P. Chase. Mr. Butterfield was a Knight Templar and the Masonic fraternity was represented by four past masters of St. Matthew's lodge, A. F. & A. M., James B. Smith, George S. Cole, Albert S. Manning and George W. Chandler, who served as honorary pall bearers.

Many beautiful floral tributes showed the esteem and affection in which deceased was held by his relatives and friends. Interment was in Spring Grove cemetery.

RALLY SUNDAY

Observed by South, Free and Baptist Sunday Schools.

Within recent years the custom has been inaugurated by the various church Sunday schools all over the country of holding special exercises on the first Sunday of fall or sometime in that vicinity, called a Rally Sunday. Then all, or nearly all, the summer sojourners are supposed to have returned from their outings and to be prepared to resume their attendance at and work in the Sunday school. Last Sunday was the day chosen for the rallying of the Sunday school forces and Andover, in company with other places, observed the day with appropriate exercises.

At the South church the attendance was large and encouraging after the long vacation through the summer. The chairs for the vestry arrived on Saturday, otherwise last Sunday could not have been taken to observe the Rally day on as the seating capacity of the vestries, newly renovated, would not have been large enough to accommodate all the scholars and visitors. Rev. Mr. Shipman, who returned from abroad only the Thursday before after a summer across the water, delivered an earnest address to the gathering. Superintendent Charles H. Gilbert was much pleased at the number which attended these exercises.

Down on Railroad street, the Free church Sunday school was holding their Rally day exercises, and they also had a very large attendance, among the gathering being many visitors. Several of the classes had their full complement of pupils. A Rally day pamphlet was used, the hymns of which were set to patriotic music. The Free church orchestra played the accompaniments to the songs. J. Newton Cole, superintendent of the Sunday school, made a short address to the scholars and teachers.

Like her Congregational sisters, the Baptist Sunday school observed Rally day Sunday, and like them was blessed by a large attendance of her Sunday school membership. Special effort had been made to add to the attractiveness of the Sabbath school rooms by beautiful warm-tinted autumn leaves, golden rods and other fall flowers placed around the organ and platform. Miss Wells, of New Haven, Conn., now stopping in Andover, was chairman of the committee which did the decorating. Special music, addresses, and words of welcome from superintendent to school and teachers to scholars constituted the service of the day.

Guild Classes.

It is the desire of the Andover Guild to form classes for the winter for instruction so far as possible, in such branches as may seem to be demanded, and for the purpose of getting an expression of opinion in the matter, all persons over fourteen years of age, who would be interested in joining any classes, are cordially invited to meet the directors at the Guild House on Monday evening, Oct. 8, from half past seven to half-past eight o'clock.

Married.

In West Bridgewater, September 28, at the residence of the officiating clergyman, Rev. E. B. Maglathin, Sumner P. Ames, of West Bridgewater, and Miss Margaret C. Hunter, of Andover.

THIEVES AT WORK

Rob Phillips Students of Money, Watches and Scarf Pins.

Bold sneak thieves were at work in the dormitories of Phillips academy last Friday afternoon and some of the students and instructors are now sadder and possibly wiser men. A good sized haul was made by the purloiners of property, including nearly $75 in money, two open faced gold watches and valuable scarf pins, those obtained in one room alone being set down as worth $60, $20, $10, and $5, respectively.

Although no definite clue has been obtained as to who stole the articles, two strangers, who represented the Boston tailoring establishment of Burke & Co., were around among the students soliciting orders for suits, overcoats, etc., the day the articles were found to be missing.

It is such a common thing for drummers to come here and solicit the student trade, that no suspicion was aroused when the men went from room to room in the various dormitories looking for "orders."

They came to Andover Friday morning and hired a team from Ira Hill, saying that they were drummers for Burke & Co. Mr. Hill has let teams to drummers for this firm so many times, that he has become acquainted with most of the men who came to Andover representing them, and as these men were strangers he asked them where the regular men were. They seemed somewhat taken aback at first, but gave some excuse which seemed plausible and Mr. Hill gave the matter no more thought. The men had the team all the afternoon. They returned it at night, and paid for it. Both had large gripsacks and were well dressed. They left town on a late evening train.

The students began to miss their property well along in the evening and in all about a dozen went to Chief of Police Frye with a tale of woe. There was every indication that the thefts were committed by the strangers, as they had ample opportunity to "lift" articles of value, and in some cases to search rooms during their trip through the dormitories. They showed full knowledge of college men's ways and both were good talkers. They carried samples with them and whenever they met a student they at once began to "solicit trade."

Chief Frye went to Boston Saturday and had a talk with Burke, the tailor. The latter told him that the young men answering the description had been in the habit of taking orders for him and that he knew nothing about them beyond that. He didn't think that they would be guilty of larceny, however. There is absolutely no evidence to show that these men were implicated in the robbery.

It is extremely probable that the thief will be found nearer home, as access might be had at almost any time to the various rooms in the cottages which are hardly ever kept locked.

One young fellow stated that if the man or men had looked in the back part of one of his bureau drawers, they would have found $175 more.

Mr. Graham, who rooms in the Taylor cottage, lost some valuable scarf pins.

Cricket.

The Brechins quit in their annual game with the resident Arbroathians of Andover when defeat was inevitable. The game was played on the local club's grounds last Saturday afternoon and was brimful of fun and plenty of kicking by the visiting Brechins from Lawrence. It was all through Captain Bruce of the Arbroaths' team that the Brechins got themselves in a pickle towards the call of time. His team had played through an inning and were on the wrong side by six runs, the score being 20 for Arbroath to 35 for Brechin. There remained nearly two hours and the wily Bruce, who never quits, suggested that a second inning be played. The Brechins readily agreed, but stimulated that the game end at half past five. They little knew what was in store for them or they would have rested on their laurels.

The Arbroath team batted for a second time and did much better, scoring 43. Bruce and Bill Haddon both got double figures with 14 and 10. W. McDermitt was top scorer in the first inning with 11. In this inning W. Porter, with his "underhand sneaks," did good work. With three quarters of an hour left the Brechins went in for their second inning, and the slaughter of the innocents began. Bruce and Haddon were the bowlers and they played havoc with the visitor's woodwork. Suddenly they saw the trap that they had been blindly led into and they tried all sorts of things to delay the game. They said it was too dark to play and someone suggested turning on the electric lights. Another suggested spectacles. Finally with nine out for less than 20 runs, the Brechins shoved their watches ahead ten minutes and claimed time was up. It wouldn't go however, and as they refused to continue, Bruce and his fellow townsmen were left victors on the field, the former chuckling with glee over the situation.

The following represented Arbroath: D. Bruce, W. Haddon, W. McDermitt, D. Coutts, S. Robb, W. Fairlie, W. Kernath, J. Lowe, T. Leslie, A. Bruce, J. Ramsay and J. Porter.

After the game both teams adjourned to Captain Bruce's home where the Brechins were again "taken in," but in a more pleasing manner. Refreshments were served and an evening of sociability spent.

FOR A WORTHY CAUSE

Promenade Concert by Andover Brass Band for Benefit of Texas Sufferers.

Something new for Andover will be the promenade concert for the benefit of the Texas cyclone sufferers, which will be held in the Town hall, Friday evening, October 12th, at 8 o'clock, instead of Monday evening next, the 8th, as previously announced.

The cause is a worthy one, and one that most of the prominent citizens are interested in as shown by such names as make up the committee of arrangements, and by the response that has already been made to the call for assistance. The committee consists of Warren F. Draper, Jos. A. Smart, John N. Cole, J. W. Bell, T. F. Pratt and Arthur Bliss.

Mr. Bliss and the Andover Brass Band have kindly volunteered their services for the concert, as have also the Raymond Male quartet. Tickets are placed at fifty cents for the floor and twenty-five cents for the balcony. They may be obtained from the school children or at many of the stores in town. Those who attend will be assisting in a worthy charity.

"The Muster-Roll of Angus."

The following item is cut from the Dundee Advertiser (Scotland) of Sept. 17, and will be interesting to many residents of Andover who come from Forfarshire:

"The Muster-Roll of Angus' has had remarkable success. The whole edition has gone off like wildfire, and the promoters have already had to refuse orders for over one hundred copies. A second edition has been proposed. The promoters are considering the proposal and may issue a second and slightly extended edition if five hundred copies are subscribed for. Meantime the publishers, Messrs Brodie & Salmond, Arbroath, are receiving orders which will await the decision arrived at by the promoters and the editor. 'The Muster-Roll of Angus' has made many Scottish counties quite envious of Forfarshire's achievement. The volume has called forth quite remarkable praise from subscribers in all parts of the country."

The "Muster Roll" contains the names of 1100 soldiers who have gone from the county of Forfar during the present Boer war and is full of illustrations and other features which make it especially interesting to Angus men. The new edition will be better than the first and more complete. Price is six shillings and any one wishing copies may send direct to the publishers, Messrs Brodie & Salmond, or give their names to G. A. Christie.

Rev. W. E. Gibbs Resigns

Great was the surprise of the parishioners of the Church of the Good Shepherd (Universalist) Sunday morning, when at the services, their pastor, Rev. W. E. Gibbs, D. D., announced to them that he was to resign his office. As one parishioner expressed it, "it came like a thunderbolt," for probably nothing was more unthought of by the majority of the church than this action of the pastor.

His resignation was presented to the standing committee of the church Saturday morning, and at 7.30 o'clock to-night at the annual meeting for the election of officers and the transaction of other business, the matter will come up for consideration. At that time the reason for Mr. Gibbs' action will probably be made known, but as yet the motive of his course is unknown. It is probable that the parishioners will refuse to accept his resignation unless they learn that he has been called to a larger field of usefulness.

Dr. Gibbs became affiliated with the local Universalist church 14 years ago today and has ever since been prominent in charitable and beneficial societies, notably in connection with the Wood home, the city mission, and the public library. He was a member of the school committee from ward four for several years, and at the present time is connected with educational and religious interests, chiefly Tufts college, Medford.

Rev. Mr. Gibbs came here from Buffalo, N. Y., and resides at 332 Haverhill street. A son, Rev. F. E. Gibbs, is settled on the charge at Amesbury, and his daughter, Mollie, is the wife of Dr. G. B. Sargent.

He has done an estimable amount of good for the church and it is sincerely to be hoped that Lawrence is not going to lose such a rare man as Dr. William E. Gibbs.

The Doctor was seen by a Telegram representative this morning but would say nothing concerning his resignation other than the fact that it was true that it had been tendered.

MET IN THIS CITY.

The 35th annual meeting of the Merrimack River Baptist association was held in the First Baptist church in this city Wednesday. Representatives were present from various Baptist churches of Lowell, Haverhill, and the surrounding towns in the Merrimack Valley. The morning service was well attended. The session opened at 9.30 o'clock with devotional services conducted by Rev. E. A. Whittier.

At 10 o'clock the business session was held. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Rev. C. T. Morgan; clerk, Rev. Frank W. Padelford; treasurer, S. F. Snell. The committees appointed were: Order of business for the day, Messrs. Green, Ford and Padelford; arrangements for next year, Messrs. McNally, Tueller and Padelford; nomination, Messrs. Chapman, Norris and Ryan; resolutions, Messrs. Bailey, Peirce, Ellis, Davis and Davis; state of religion, Messrs. Dilts, Millington, Floyd; systematic benevolence, Messrs. Green, Bailey, Ford, Scates, Whittier, Snell and Moore; credentials, Messrs. Bailey, McNally and Belknap; entertainment, Messrs. Scates, Williams and Belknap; nomination for trustees, M. B. C. S., Messrs. Bixley, McDugald and Smith.

After the business an interesting and helpful address was delivered by Rev. A. A. Shaw, of the First Baptist church Brookline, who took for his subject: "He that winneth souls is wise."

Rev. Charles L. Morgan of Haverhill preached the annual sermon and delivered a powerful address on the subject "The Church and the Affairs of Men."

Shortly after 12 o'clock the session was brought to a close, and about 325 guests adjourned to the vestry where dinner was served by the ladies of the First Baptist church. Able addresses were delivered during the afternoon session. This evening Rev. W. H. P. Faunce, president of Brown University will deliver the address. He is well known as an able speaker as well as a brilliant scholar, and there will probably be a large gathering to hear him.

CATARRH CANNOT BE CURED

with local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials free.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Last Monday's event at the Boston Museum was a triumph in theatrical entertainment. It was, moreover, a splendid novelty and one that will pack the popular playhouse to the doors during the entire run. It marked the return to the stage of Charles E. Evans, who appeared before a tremendous audience as the gay and merry Professor of "moral culture" in David Belasco's roaring comedy "Naughty Anthony". This play ran for nearly one hundred and fifty nights at the Herald Square Theatre, New York, the latter half of last season and created a veritable sensation. In the title part as played by Charles Evans Monday night he scored the triumph of his career, even surpassing his laughable creation of the book agent when, a few years since, he was starring with "Old Hoss" Hoey in "A Parlor Match".

The moment Evans stepped on the stage he received a great ovation and this style of reception is the kind that has been accorded him wherever he has appeared this season. Possibly the congenial character he is playing has something to do with it, for Naughty Anthony is one of the funniest parts that could fall to an actor's lot to play. The second sensation of the comedy occurred in the third act, during the famous stocking episode. It will be remembered that this incident created a mild tempest in a teapot when the play had its long run in New York last season. At all events, the few moments of the stocking scene are followed with closest attention, for not one person of the large audiences that witness the play, is willing to miss a single second of it. As if three acts of incessant laughter were not enough to fill out an evening's enjoyment, David Belasco introduces the programme by a complete production of his famous "Madame Butterfly" which set the critics of London simply wild with admiration when the piece ran for three months last summer at the Duke of York's Theatre. Following Boston it is possible Mr. Belasco may send his star and both plays for a brief tour of the New England circuit. At present he is well content with the enormous business being done at the Boston Museum.

CONGRATULATES M. FLYNN.

John C. Burke, of Lowell has sent the following letter of congratulation to Joseph J. Flynn on his nomination by the Democrats as candidate for Congress in the Fifth district:

Lowell, Sept. 29, 1900.

To Joseph J. Flynn, Esq.:

Dear Sir: Accept my congratulations on your appointment to the office of Standard Bearer of the Democratic party in the fifth Congressional district.

You may expect all such aid that as a Democrat I can render toward the redemption of the district in the coming battle. No heartier wish than mine will be for your success in the coming struggle of 1900. With best wishes I remain,

Yours sincerely,

JOHN C. BURKE.

FOOTBALL.

ANDOVER 28; BOSTON LATIN 0.

No trouble was experienced by the Phillips Andover football team in defeating the Boston Latin school eleven by the score of 28 to 0 last Saturday afternoon in the opening game of the season. To be sure the Latin school's team was fearfully weak, for although composed of good, big fellows, they were mostly all green men who were unable to stand up against the larger experience of such men as Kinney, Chase and Bailey, and were powerless to stop the line plunges of Levine, Captain Collins and the other backs.

Andover's material showed up fairly well, seeming to indicate that with good coaching the team ought to become strong before the close of the football year. Of the old men Collins, Levine, Kinney and Matthews seem to retain their old form and ability. Chase, a new man who weighs about 190 pounds, appears to be a fixture as Kinney's partner at the other guard position. Of the men who are out for tackles, Bailey, who played on last year's Commons' team, is playing a fast game, while Bissell, Abbott and Davis are showing up well. All were given a trial Saturday.

Cooley, a substitute on last year's team, is back in school and is liable to make these men hustle for one of the tackle positions. Barney seems to be a fixture at centre. He weighs 240 pounds but is fairly active, although a bit slow.

At the end Matthews will play his old position unless Burke is incapacitated at quarter. At present, the latter is hardly in fit condition to play the game although he does play fiercely and well. Other men who were tried on the end in the B. L. game were, Gardner, Botchford and Cates. For the backs, P. A. has a wealth of good material. With Collins and Levine out, two of the positions are already filled, and the fight for the third will come between Stoddard, who punts well, Owsley and Reeves, new men, and Bliss of last year's second eleven. Stoddard was out for a few weeks last fall but afterwards left school. Owsley seems to be a coming man although not very heavy.

The game Saturday was too one-sided to be interesting, but it showed up Andover's customary weakness, plenty of fumbling by the backs and carelessness of the forwards in getting offside, losing the team the ball and many yards.

Charwate, ex-P. A. '02, played a good game at left end for the visitors, making good tackles and following the ball well.

Wedding.

LOVEKIN-STEVENS.

In the handsome mansion of Hon.
Moses T. Stevens, Osgood Hall, North Andover, the marriage of the ex-congressman's youngest daughter, Miss Helen Stevens, and Mr. Arthur Charles Lovekin of Honolulu, territory of Hawaii, took place yesterday. The ceremony was performed at 2 o'clock by the Rev. Charles Noyes, pastor of the Old North church. The bride entered the drawing room leaning on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage. They were preceded by two nephews of the bride, Masters Abbot Stevens and Sam Dale Stevens, Jr., and the maid of honor, her niece, little Miss Caroline Stevens.

The ushers were Messrs. Horace N.
Stevens of New York, Chester A. Howe,
Edmund F. Leland and Edward H.
Smith of Boston. The bridegroom was attended by Mr. M. T. Stevens, Jr., as best man.

Previous to the nuptials, Mr. James
A. Whitman of Lawrence furnished organ music, and as the bridal party entered the room, Mendelssohn's wedding march was played. The bride was attired in white satin, trimmed with point applique lace, and wore a tulle veil, which was fastened with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

The reception was held at 2.30, Mr.
and Mrs. Lovekin being assisted in receiving by the bride's parents.

The decorations were in charge of young friends and relatives of the bride.
Southern snail and roses were arranged most effectively amid a profusion of palms, ferns and other potted plants by Galvin of Boston.

The Columbian orchestra furnished music, and Weber of Boston catered.

The guests numbered 200. New York, Washington, Providence, Boston, Honolulu, Lowell, Springfield, Salem, Lawrence, Haverhill and Andover being represented. The guests arrived on the 11.50 train. They were met at the station and conveyed to Osgood Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Lovekin left on a tour which will include a journey across the country, ultimately reaching San Francisco, where they will sail for Honolulu.
They will be at home after Jan. 1, in Waikiki, a suburb of the Hawaiian capital.

ganization in a pleasure meeting Tuesday evening and the result was in every way a success. The Buxford amateurs gave an amusing farce entitled "A Rural Ruse," with the following cast:
Solomon Sienker, a widower,
Wm. R. Cole
Amos Burns, Pansy's lover.

Pansy Watson, a romantic maiden of 18,
Miss Katherine Peirce
Content Weston, the maiden aunt,
Miss Ruth D. Case

The presentation was interspersed with many local hits. The feast which supplemented the play was considered one of the best and a credit to home hospitality. It was, so to speak, the "Assessor's feast," and served under the direction of Arthur H. Farnham, Calvin Rea, John P. Clark, Mrs. A. D. Carleton, Mrs. Walter H. Hayes and the Miss Kate Fuller. The floral decorations made a rich setting for the tables.

The arrest of Edmund D. Sargent at six o'clock yesterday by Chief of Police Mizen and Officer George L. Harris, created a regretful sensation. The warrant alleges embezzlement of funds from Wauwinet Lodge, I. O. O. F., of town and the amount involved was thing like $300. In the local court this afternoon at 3 o'clock the defendant waived examination and was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $1500. In default of bail he was committed. (Mr. Sargent is a Past Grand of the lodge and for several years has held the office of secretary. Mr. Harris is the chairman of a committee appointed to represent the lodge in the matter of prosecution. This action was determined upon by it is understood Wednesday night and is the result of the report of an investigating committee, other means of settlement having failed. That such means became necessary was regretted and deep and sincere sympathy is expressed for those in the family to whom the blow is most severe.

"They say he's rather dull," suggested the girl in blue.
"O, dull is no name for it," replied the girl in white. "Why, after I had incidentally mentioned to him that there wasn't a soul within hearing, he actually refrained from kissing me because I said I would scream if he did."—

WISE HEADS ON CHILDREN

Some children have wise heads set on their diminutive little shoulders. Here's an example that is really true.

Three little girls were given 15 cents each by their fond mamma and allowed to go to a church lawn party recently. The next day they were heard discussing the event in much the same strain that their elder sisters would do.
Said one little curv head: "I think those ladies were real stingy with their cake. They only gave us one little bit of a piece."

"Why, we could buy a whole loaf of cake at the bakers for 5 cents," chimed in another little tot. "And did you see that lady give her own little boy three pieces?" volunteered the third. "But then we had a real nice time, and got three large dishes of ice cream," continued the first speaker in turn.

"Yes, and my big sister says we mustn't expect as much for our money at a church sociable, 'cause it's to help them," added another of the trio. That last remark settled it with the three little maids—Worcester Spy.

The theatrical managers of London had an inundation of applications for places in the choruses from the wives and other dependents of soldiers who were killed, in South Africa. Even the wives of officers who lost their lives in the war have applied for similar employment.

Though separated by the storm and washed in different directions, all the members of the Stubbs family at Galveston were rescued. Father, mother and two children were on a floating raft that broke in pieces. The father with one child, went one way. The mother went another, and the remaining child went in still a third direction.
Sunday evening all four were reunited.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL Baking Powder is indispensable to the preparation of the finest cake, hot-breads,
rolls and muffins.

Housekeepers are sometimes importuned to buy other powders because they are "cheap."

Housekeepers should stop and think. If such powders are lower priced, are they not inferior?

Is it economy to spoil your digestion to save a few pennies?

Alum is used in some baking powders because it is cheap. It costs but a few cents a pound whereas the chief ingredient in a pure powder costs thirty. But alum is a corrosive poison which, taken in food, acts injuriously upon the stomach, liver and kidneys.
